A visual 'Taste of Radnor'

Residents enter their best photos in a contest leading up to annual Studio 21 fundraiser

This year, Radnor Studio 21's Taste of Radnor event not only featured some of the great cuisine that the area has to offer, but also great photography.

A competition was held, co-sponsored by the Wayne Art Center, for photos taken in Radnor Township. The entries were judged by Suburban and Wayne Times photographer John Welsh, and were displayed Sunday at the Taste of Radnor, which was held on the campus of Villanova University.

Welsh said he judged the photos on composition, print quality and subject matter.

He added that photography is one of the more accessible arts for the general public and something everyone can do.

"It doesn't mean you're going to win a photo competition... but it's good to go out and shoot something for yourself," Welsh said.
